

MIXED PUNCTUATION SENTENCES

A sentence that makes a statement ends with a period (.). A sentence that asks a question ends with a question mark (?). A sentence that expresses a strong emotion (such as excited, angry, or scared) ends with an exclamation mark (!) Read the sentences below and add the correct punctuation on the line.

Will you please pass the potatoes ___

Look at that huge elephant ___

The game will start in an hour ___

I'm so excited about my new puppy ___

Who is your favorite relative ___

Jack walks to school each day ___

I am so mad at you ___

Do you want to come over to my house ___

I like mint chip ice cream ___

I wrote a letter to my aunt ___

Ouch, my throat hurts ___

May we go swimming now ___